

crop for 1837, at 25 bushels to the acre, which at 80 cts the bushel will be worth $160,000,000. Estimating 5 bushels of wheat to a barrel of flour, this will give 40,000,000 barrels, or a surplus for export or to remain in barns of 22,000,000 barrels. At the least calculation there is no doubt wheat enough raised the present season, to supply the country 2 years, and if it is not monopolized by speculators, or the grain kept back by growers, the price of flour ought the ensuing winter not to exceed $5.00 per barrel; the price of flour in 1822. In the spring of that year, good superfine flour was sold in Philadelphia for $3.25 per barrel.—Essex Register.

GEORGIA.—We have returns from 61 counties. They show an increased Whig majority, compared with 1835, of 3566. In this year Gov. Schley succeeded by only 2571 votes. He is undoubtedly defeated now. It is supposed the Senate will be Whig, the lower house Van Buren, as regards the Legislature.

MELANCHOLY SUICIDE.—Mr. JAMES L. REED, teller in the Erie Bank, committed suicide, this morning by cutting his throat with a razor. He had been observed, for some days, to be in a melancholy state of mind, and on many subjects quite absent, yet had attended to business with his usual promptitude. Having on former occasions exhibited the same gloomy state of mind, no apprehension was excited of any design upon himself, until the fatal act was committed, which was done in the room adjoining the counting room of the Bank, where the cashier and others were transacting business. So effectual was the stroke, of which there appeared to be but one, that both the carotid artery and jugular vein together with the wind pipe, were severed, and the victim survived but a few moments. No evidence has appeared that the act was premeditated.

Mr. Reed has experienced much of the buffetings of fortune—first in loss of a large amount of goods on the lake some four or five years since, and subsequently by ill health. He had, however, we believe, recovered from his pecuniary losses, his health was pretty thoroughly restored, and he was in a line of business bidding fair, in a short time, to furnish him with a competence against any future misfortunes. He was married, a few weeks since to an amiable young woman; and enjoyed, in an eminent degree, the confidence and good will of his acquaintances.—Erie, Pa. Obs.

ROBBERY.—The Jewellers shop of Mr. GUSTAVUS HILLS in this village, was broken open last night, and robbed of a number of watches. The thief has not yet been discovered. A reward of twenty dollars is offered for his arrest.—Ashtabula Sentinel.

FOREIGNERS FOR FLORIDA.—It appears that our government are about to form two companies of French and German volunteers, of 200 men each, for a campaign of six months in Florida. The companies are to be commanded by officers of their respective nations, and the pay will be the same as in our army.

Mr. Samuel Stokely, of Jefferson Co. who candidate for the Senate, has beaten his loco foco competitor, Beuj. Tappan, by 150 votes. Samuel McNary, the Whig candidate for representative, has also succeeded. At the presidential election, last fall, Jefferson Co. gave a majority of 440 for Nan Buon. Well done Jefferson!—W. R. Chronicle.

Senator Morris of Ohio, found it convenient to be "absent" upon the final vote of the Sub-Treasury system in the Senate. The Daily Buffalo Journal says he was seen in the Senate a few minutes before the vote was taken. It is therefore, fair to presume that he dodged the question. He will find it rather more difficult to dodge the effect of the late elections in this State!

More than sixty brick buildings, besides a number of frames, are being erected in the city of Buffalo, notwithstanding the general derangement of the times.

A great storm lately swept over New Orleans and the neighborhood, destroying property of every kind in its progress.

Flour in Cincinnati, the 9th inst. was selling for $5.37 1/2 per barrel. Wheat, 75 cents per bushel.—Ashtabula Sentinel.

DIED.
At his residence, in Toledo, on Saturday, the 21st inst. JOHN BALDWIN, Esq. one of the associate judges of the Court of common pleas of this county.

Lost by the wreck of the steam packet ship Home, on her passage between New York and Charleston, on Monday night the 9th inst. Miss CYNTHIA H. STOW, aged twenty-one years. Miss Stow was a native of Geneva, in the State of New York, where her parents now live; and had resided for several years, in Augusta Georgia. She was educated at the Seminary of Mrs. Willard at Troy New York, with whom she was long a favorite, from her amiable and interesting manners, and high mental endowments. At the recommendation of Mrs. Willard, she took up her residence in Georgia, occupying herself in the business of instructing, for which she was eminently well qualified. A few months since, she returned to the North, on a visit to her friends, and passed a few weeks at the residence of her brother-in-law and sister in this place; and it was on her return, that she occurred the melancholy dispensation of providence, which has deprived a large family of one who was justly a favorite, and an extensive circle of friends of her who was truly the object of their love and admiration. The deceased was a woman of no ordinary talents. Conscious of them, and willing to devote them to the good of mankind, she had devoted herself to the high and responsible business of teaching; and the estimation in which she was held in the place of her residence, is shining proof of her value. Her poetical productions, some of which have been published in this paper, betokened a rich vein of truly poetic feeling, and evinced a heart overflowing with goodness and truth. Her loss cannot be estimated, for its sum is written only in the hearts of those who knew her.

WANTED 2500 lbs of Bees-wax, for which the highest price will be paid by RANNEY, RICHARDSON & CO. Oct. 13.

THE NEW YORK MIRROR.

A POPULAR and highly esteemed journal of Elegant Literature and the Fine Arts; embellished with magnificent and costly engravings on steel, copper and wood, and rare, beautiful and popular music, arranged for the Piano Forte, Harp, Guitar, &c., containing articles from the pens of well known and distinguished writers, upon every subject that can prove interesting to the general reader, including original poetry, Tales and Essays, humorous and pathetic; Critical notices; Early and choice selection from the best new publications, both American and English; Scientific and Literary Intelligence; Copious notices of foreign countries, by correspondents engaged expressly for this journal; Strictures upon the various productions in the Fine Arts that are presented for the notice and approbation of the public; Elaborate and beautiful specimens of Art, Engravings, Music, etc.—Notices of the acting Drama, and other amusements; Translations from the best new works in other languages, French, German, Italian, Spanish, etc; and an infinite variety of miscellaneous reading relating to passing events, remarkable individuals, discoveries and improvements in Science, Art, Mechanics, and a series of original papers, by William Cox, the author of Crayon Sketches, and other popular works.

We congratulate both our readers and ourselves at the excellent auspices under which we shall commence the next volume of the New York Mirror. The times, indeed, are gloomy; but, widely as our commercial distress is extended, the Mirror has shot the roots which nourish it still wider, and the elements of its prosperity being now derived from every section of our extended country, it shares in the good fortune of those most remote, while sympathizing with the troubles of those which are near. It is owing to this general circulation that we are enabled in times like these not merely to sustain the wonted style of our publication, but to present new claims upon that patriotic regard which has never been withheld from our untiring exertions to make the New York Mirror the first publication of the kind in the world. Nor do we fear to be thought presuming in aiming at so high a mark. Let those who would carp at the expression, but look at the commencement of our undertaking; to the first of the fourteen volumes, which, year after year have been produced with an increase of toil and expense that has ever kept in advance of the support we have received, liberal, undoubtedly, as that support has been. Let them then weigh the improvements upon its predecessor in each successive volume, and we fearlessly assert that they cannot withhold their approval from our past labors, nor deny the rich promise with which our publication is still rich.

THE LITERARY ARRANGEMENTS for the coming year must secure a great improvement in this department of the Mirror; for while our journal will continue to be mainly supported by Morris, Willis, and Fay, new engagements have been made with Captain Marryat, and several other writers of established reputation, on both sides of the Atlantic, to give us the aid of their talents; and enroll themselves with those who, like Dr. Cox, have become almost identified with our columns. These increased resources must necessarily give a diversity to the paper; while, in order to promote that unity of purpose which is so desirable in such a journal, and which can only be secured by its having one acting head, the Mirror has now been placed under the immediate editorial charge of a single person; and the proprietor is happy to announce that he has made a permanent arrangement with Mr. C. F. Hoffman, who has for months had charge of this department.

THE STEEL ENGRAVINGS now in the course of preparation for the coming year are such as we shall be proud to lay before our countrymen. They commemorate the romantic scenery and the illustrious characters of our land. The Landing at Jamestown, painted by Chapman, will appear among the historical landscapes; and our series of Portraits which began with Halleck, will be followed by those of Bryant, Sprague, Cooper, Irving and Verplank; making, when finished, a most valuable portrait gallery of Americans of literary celebrity, while they illustrate the genius of Stewart, Inman, Weir, and other native artists of whom our country is justly proud.

THE WOOD ENGRAVINGS to which we have ever paid our attention, as the branch of the art to which they belong is one which our countrymen are rapidly carrying to a high degree of perfection, will assume new importance in this new volume, as all will acknowledge who behold the superb specimen of Chapman's genius and Adams' skill in an early number.

THE MUSICAL DEPARTMENT for the coming year, will be enriched by many original contributions by Horn and Russell, alternated with choice morceaux from rare European collections, and occasional selections from new and popular compositions, imported expressly for

COMMERCIAL RECORD.

PRICES CURRENT, Maumee City, Oct. 7.
Corrected by WHITE & KIRTLAND.

Bacon—Hams	11 a	12
Shoulders	10 a	11
Beef, lb.	7 a	9
Beans, bush.
Butter, lb.	18	22
Cheese, lb.		7
Cider, per bbl.
Flour—Superfine	8	9.00
Fine	8
Fruit—Apples dried bush.	1.50 a	2.00
Apples, per bbl.	2.50	3.00
Peaches,	2.00 a	2.50
Grain—Oats	40	50
Corn	1.00	1.25
Lard, lb.	9 a	10
Lumber—Pine, com. M.	13.00 a	15.00
clear	20.00 a	22.00
Shingles, M.	3.00	3.50
Pork—Mess	23.00
one hog	21.00
Prime,	16.00 a	18.00
Whiskey,	40 a	44

FOOT OF THE RAPIDS—MARINE LIST.

ARRIVED.

Oct 22	St'bt Cincinnati, Cleveland.
23	St'bt O. Newberry, Buffalo.
"	" Anthony Wayne, Buffalo.
"	" Monroe, Buffalo.
24	Schr. Caroline, Buffalo.
"	" Walter Joy, Buffalo.
"	" Swiftsure, Erie.
"	St'bt Anthony Wayne, Detroit.
25	Schr. Tippecanoe, Buffalo.
"	Sloop Morning Star, Cleveland.
26	Schr. Eclipse, Cleveland.
"	St'bt Com. Perry, Buffalo.
27	St'bt Cincinnati, Cleveland.

CLEARED.

Oct 22	St'bt Cincinnati, Cleveland.
23	St'bt O. Newberry, Buffalo.
"	" Anthony Wayne, Detroit.
24	" Monroe, Buffalo.
"	St'bt Anthony Wayne, Buffalo.
25	Schr. Caroline, Buffalo.
26	" Walter Joy, Buffalo.
"	St'bt Com. Perry, Buffalo.
"	Sloop Morning Star, Cleveland.
27	St'bt Cincinnati, Cleveland.
10	Schr. Eclipse, Buffalo.

RELIGIOUS NOTICE.

THE Universalist Church, recently erected in Perryburg, will be publicly dedicated to the worship of the one living and true God, on the first Sunday of November, 5th proximo, with the usual appropriate ceremonies. Services will commence at 10 o'clock A. M. Persons residing in Maumee, who wish to attend, can have a free passage at the lower ferry.
Perryburg, Oct. 27. 30w2

CAUTION.

THE public are hereby cautioned against purchasing a note of hand, made payable for $73 Dollars the 15th of September, to Simon Brown, or bearer, as I have offsets against said note. The above note was dated Maumee, Oct. 15, 1836.
J. W. CONVERSE. 30tf

APPLES & FLOUR.

For sale for cash only, by WHITE & KIRTLAND. 30tf

NOTICE is hereby given, that my wife Abigail Kimball, has left my bed and board, without any cause or provocation, this is to forbid all persons harboring or trusting her on my account, as I shall pay no debts of her contracting after this date.

NORMAN KIMBALL.

Springfield, Oct. 8, 1837. 30w3*

STEAM SAW MILL FOR SALE.

SITUATED on the Maumee river, three miles below Defiance, Williams county. The building is nearly new, now in operation and good repair, sawing from two to three thousand feet per day. It will be sold in accommodating payments and immediate possession given.
For terms, apply to John McClure at the Mill, or to WM. SIMONS Esq. Defiance, Oct. 14, 1837. 29w3

A REQUEST.

THE subscribers having relinquished their Mercantile Business, request those who have unsettled accounts with them, to call one door west of the Post Office, and close the same by cash or note.
All those of their good old customers who have overpaid are earnestly invited to call and receive the money for the balance due them or notes on interest.
S. A. & J. H. SARGENT. 28tf

NEW ARRANGEMENT.

THE subscribers would respectfully inform the inhabitants of Maumee City and vicinity, that they have taken the Store corner of Conant and Front streets, lately occupied by Messrs. S. A. & J. H. Sargent, where may be found at all times, a general assortment of merchandise, such as English and American Dry Goods, West India goods and groceries, crockery, glass and hard ware, paints, oil and dye stuffs, boots, shoes, hats and caps, books, stationery, &c. &c. All of which will be sold low for cash, and short approved credit. Country Produce, &c. &c. RANNEY, RICHARDSON & CO. Maumee City, Oct. 13. 29tf

WANTED 2500 lbs of Bees-wax, for which the highest price will be paid by RANNEY, RICHARDSON & CO. Oct. 13.

THE NEW YORK MIRROR.

A POPULAR and highly esteemed journal of Elegant Literature and the Fine Arts; embellished with magnificent and costly engravings on steel, copper and wood, and rare, beautiful and popular music, arranged for the Piano Forte, Harp, Guitar, &c., containing articles from the pens of well known and distinguished writers, upon every subject that can prove interesting to the general reader, including original poetry, Tales and Essays, humorous and pathetic; Critical notices; Early and choice selection from the best new publications, both American and English; Scientific and Literary Intelligence; Copious notices of foreign countries, by correspondents engaged expressly for this journal; Strictures upon the various productions in the Fine Arts that are presented for the notice and approbation of the public; Elaborate and beautiful specimens of Art, Engravings, Music, etc.—Notices of the acting Drama, and other amusements; Translations from the best new works in other languages, French, German, Italian, Spanish, etc; and an infinite variety of miscellaneous reading relating to passing events, remarkable individuals, discoveries and improvements in Science, Art, Mechanics, and a series of original papers, by William Cox, the author of Crayon Sketches, and other popular works.

We congratulate both our readers and ourselves at the excellent auspices under which we shall commence the next volume of the New York Mirror. The times, indeed, are gloomy; but, widely as our commercial distress is extended, the Mirror has shot the roots which nourish it still wider, and the elements of its prosperity being now derived from every section of our extended country, it shares in the good fortune of those most remote, while sympathizing with the troubles of those which are near. It is owing to this general circulation that we are enabled in times like these not merely to sustain the wonted style of our publication, but to present new claims upon that patriotic regard which has never been withheld from our untiring exertions to make the New York Mirror the first publication of the kind in the world. Nor do we fear to be thought presuming in aiming at so high a mark. Let those who would carp at the expression, but look at the commencement of our undertaking; to the first of the fourteen volumes, which, year after year have been produced with an increase of toil and expense that has ever kept in advance of the support we have received, liberal, undoubtedly, as that support has been. Let them then weigh the improvements upon its predecessor in each successive volume, and we fearlessly assert that they cannot withhold their approval from our past labors, nor deny the rich promise with which our publication is still rich.

THE LITERARY ARRANGEMENTS for the coming year must secure a great improvement in this department of the Mirror; for while our journal will continue to be mainly supported by Morris, Willis, and Fay, new engagements have been made with Captain Marryat, and several other writers of established reputation, on both sides of the Atlantic, to give us the aid of their talents; and enroll themselves with those who, like Dr. Cox, have become almost identified with our columns. These increased resources must necessarily give a diversity to the paper; while, in order to promote that unity of purpose which is so desirable in such a journal, and which can only be secured by its having one acting head, the Mirror has now been placed under the immediate editorial charge of a single person; and the proprietor is happy to announce that he has made a permanent arrangement with Mr. C. F. Hoffman, who has for months had charge of this department.

THE STEEL ENGRAVINGS now in the course of preparation for the coming year are such as we shall be proud to lay before our countrymen. They commemorate the romantic scenery and the illustrious characters of our land. The Landing at Jamestown, painted by Chapman, will appear among the historical landscapes; and our series of Portraits which began with Halleck, will be followed by those of Bryant, Sprague, Cooper, Irving and Verplank; making, when finished, a most valuable portrait gallery of Americans of literary celebrity, while they illustrate the genius of Stewart, Inman, Weir, and other native artists of whom our country is justly proud.

THE WOOD ENGRAVINGS to which we have ever paid our attention, as the branch of the art to which they belong is one which our countrymen are rapidly carrying to a high degree of perfection, will assume new importance in this new volume, as all will acknowledge who behold the superb specimen of Chapman's genius and Adams' skill in an early number.

THE MUSICAL DEPARTMENT for the coming year, will be enriched by many original contributions by Horn and Russell, alternated with choice morceaux from rare European collections, and occasional selections from new and popular compositions, imported expressly for

WANTED 2500 lbs of Bees-wax, for which the highest price will be paid by RANNEY, RICHARDSON & CO. Oct. 13.

THE NEW YORK MIRROR.

A POPULAR and highly esteemed journal of Elegant Literature and the Fine Arts; embellished with magnificent and costly engravings on steel, copper and wood, and rare, beautiful and popular music, arranged for the Piano Forte, Harp, Guitar, &c., containing articles from the pens of well known and distinguished writers, upon every subject that can prove interesting to the general reader, including original poetry, Tales and Essays, humorous and pathetic; Critical notices; Early and choice selection from the best new publications, both American and English; Scientific and Literary Intelligence; Copious notices of foreign countries, by correspondents engaged expressly for this journal; Strictures upon the various productions in the Fine Arts that are presented for the notice and approbation of the public; Elaborate and beautiful specimens of Art, Engravings, Music, etc.—Notices of the acting Drama, and other amusements; Translations from the best new works in other languages, French, German, Italian, Spanish, etc; and an infinite variety of miscellaneous reading relating to passing events, remarkable individuals, discoveries and improvements in Science, Art, Mechanics, and a series of original papers, by William Cox, the author of Crayon Sketches, and other popular works.

We congratulate both our readers and ourselves at the excellent auspices under which we shall commence the next volume of the New York Mirror. The times, indeed, are gloomy; but, widely as our commercial distress is extended, the Mirror has shot the roots which nourish it still wider, and the elements of its prosperity being now derived from every section of our extended country, it shares in the good fortune of those most remote, while sympathizing with the troubles of those which are near. It is owing to this general circulation that we are enabled in times like these not merely to sustain the wonted style of our publication, but to present new claims upon that patriotic regard which has never been withheld from our untiring exertions to make the New York Mirror the first publication of the kind in the world. Nor do we fear to be thought presuming in aiming at so high a mark. Let those who would carp at the expression, but look at the commencement of our undertaking; to the first of the fourteen volumes, which, year after year have been produced with an increase of toil and expense that has ever kept in advance of the support we have received, liberal, undoubtedly, as that support has been. Let them then weigh the improvements upon its predecessor in each successive volume, and we fearlessly assert that they cannot withhold their approval from our past labors, nor deny the rich promise with which our publication is still rich.

THE LITERARY ARRANGEMENTS for the coming year must secure a great improvement in this department of the Mirror; for while our journal will continue to be mainly supported by Morris, Willis, and Fay, new engagements have been made with Captain Marryat, and several other writers of established reputation, on both sides of the Atlantic, to give us the aid of their talents; and enroll themselves with those who, like Dr. Cox, have become almost identified with our columns. These increased resources must necessarily give a diversity to the paper; while, in order to promote that unity of purpose which is so desirable in such a journal, and which can only be secured by its having one acting head, the Mirror has now been placed under the immediate editorial charge of a single person; and the proprietor is happy to announce that he has made a permanent arrangement with Mr. C. F. Hoffman, who has for months had charge of this department.

THE STEEL ENGRAVINGS now in the course of preparation for the coming year are such as we shall be proud to lay before our countrymen. They commemorate the romantic scenery and the illustrious characters of our land. The Landing at Jamestown, painted by Chapman, will appear among the historical landscapes; and our series of Portraits which began with Halleck, will be followed by those of Bryant, Sprague, Cooper, Irving and Verplank; making, when finished, a most valuable portrait gallery of Americans of literary celebrity, while they illustrate the genius of Stewart, Inman, Weir, and other native artists of whom our country is justly proud.

THE WOOD ENGRAVINGS to which we have ever paid our attention, as the branch of the art to which they belong is one which our countrymen are rapidly carrying to a high degree of perfection, will assume new importance in this new volume, as all will acknowledge who behold the superb specimen of Chapman's genius and Adams' skill in an early number.

THE MUSICAL DEPARTMENT for the coming year, will be enriched by many original contributions by Horn and Russell, alternated with choice morceaux from rare European collections, and occasional selections from new and popular compositions, imported expressly for

WANTED 2500 lbs of Bees-wax, for which the highest price will be paid by RANNEY, RICHARDSON & CO. Oct. 13.

THE NEW YORK MIRROR.

A POPULAR and highly esteemed journal of Elegant Literature and the Fine Arts; embellished with magnificent and costly engravings on steel, copper and wood, and rare, beautiful and popular music, arranged for the Piano Forte, Harp, Guitar, &c., containing articles from the pens of well known and distinguished writers, upon every subject that can prove interesting to the general reader, including original poetry, Tales and Essays, humorous and pathetic; Critical notices; Early and choice selection from the best new publications, both American and English; Scientific and Literary Intelligence; Copious notices of foreign countries, by correspondents engaged expressly for this journal; Strictures upon the various productions in the Fine Arts that are presented for the notice and approbation of the public; Elaborate and beautiful specimens of Art, Engravings, Music, etc.—Notices of the acting Drama, and other amusements; Translations from the best new works in other languages, French, German, Italian, Spanish, etc; and an infinite variety of miscellaneous reading relating to passing events, remarkable individuals, discoveries and improvements in Science, Art, Mechanics, and a series of original papers, by William Cox, the author of Crayon Sketches, and other popular works.

We congratulate both our readers and ourselves at the excellent auspices under which we shall commence the next volume of the New York Mirror. The times, indeed, are gloomy; but, widely as our commercial distress is extended, the Mirror has shot the roots which nourish it still wider, and the elements of its prosperity being now derived from every section of our extended country, it shares in the good fortune of those most remote, while sympathizing with the troubles of those which are near. It is owing to this general circulation that we are enabled in times like these not merely to sustain the wonted style of our publication, but to present new claims upon that patriotic regard which has never been withheld from our untiring exertions to make the New York Mirror the first publication of the kind in the world. Nor do we fear to be thought presuming in aiming at so high a mark. Let those who would carp at the expression, but look at the commencement of our undertaking; to the first of the fourteen volumes, which, year after year have been produced with an increase of toil and expense that has ever kept in advance of the support we have received, liberal, undoubtedly, as that support has been. Let them then weigh the improvements upon its predecessor in each successive volume, and we fearlessly assert that they cannot withhold their approval from our past labors, nor deny the rich promise with which our publication is still rich.

THE LITERARY ARRANGEMENTS for the coming year must secure a great improvement in this department of the Mirror; for while our journal will continue to be mainly supported by Morris, Willis, and Fay, new engagements have been made with Captain Marryat, and several other writers of established reputation, on both sides of the Atlantic, to give us the aid of their talents; and enroll themselves with those who, like Dr. Cox, have become almost identified with our columns. These increased resources must necessarily give a diversity to the paper; while, in order to promote that unity of purpose which is so desirable in such a journal, and which can only be secured by its having one acting head, the Mirror has now been placed under the immediate editorial charge of a single person; and the proprietor is happy to announce that he has made a permanent arrangement with Mr. C. F. Hoffman, who has for months had charge of this department.

THE STEEL ENGRAVINGS now in the course of preparation for the coming year are such as we shall be proud to lay before our countrymen. They commemorate the romantic scenery and the illustrious characters of our land. The Landing at Jamestown, painted by Chapman, will appear among the historical landscapes; and our series of Portraits which began with Halleck, will be followed by those of Bryant, Sprague, Cooper, Irving and Verplank; making, when finished, a most valuable portrait gallery of Americans of literary celebrity, while they illustrate the genius of Stewart, Inman, Weir, and other native artists of whom our country is justly proud.

THE WOOD ENGRAVINGS to which we have ever paid our attention, as the branch of the art to which they belong is one which our countrymen are rapidly carrying to a high degree of perfection, will assume new importance in this new volume, as all will acknowledge who behold the superb specimen of Chapman's genius and Adams' skill in an early number.

THE MUSICAL DEPARTMENT for the coming year, will be enriched by many original contributions by Horn and Russell, alternated with choice morceaux from rare European collections, and occasional selections from new and popular compositions, imported expressly for

WANTED 2500 lbs of Bees-wax, for which the highest price will be paid by RANNEY, RICHARDSON & CO. Oct. 13.

THE NEW YORK MIRROR.

A POPULAR and highly esteemed journal of Elegant Literature and the Fine Arts; embellished with magnificent and costly engravings on steel, copper and wood, and rare, beautiful and popular music, arranged for the Piano Forte, Harp, Guitar, &c., containing articles from the pens of well known and distinguished writers, upon every subject that can prove interesting to the general reader, including original poetry, Tales and Essays, humorous and pathetic; Critical notices; Early and choice selection from the best new publications, both American and English; Scientific and Literary Intelligence; Copious notices of foreign countries, by correspondents engaged expressly for this journal; Strictures upon the various productions in the Fine Arts that are presented for the notice and approbation of the public; Elaborate and beautiful specimens of Art, Engravings, Music, etc.—Notices of the acting Drama, and other amusements; Translations from the best new works in other languages, French, German, Italian, Spanish, etc; and an infinite variety of miscellaneous reading relating to passing events, remarkable individuals, discoveries and improvements in Science, Art, Mechanics, and a series of original papers, by William Cox, the author of Crayon Sketches, and other popular works.

We congratulate both our readers and ourselves at the excellent auspices under which we shall commence the next volume of the New York Mirror. The times, indeed, are gloomy; but, widely as our commercial distress is extended, the Mirror has shot the roots which nourish it still wider, and the elements of its prosperity being now derived from every section of our extended country, it shares in the good fortune of those most remote, while sympathizing with the troubles of those which are near. It is owing to this general circulation that we are enabled in times like these not merely to sustain the wonted style of our publication, but to present new claims upon that patriotic regard which has never been withheld from our untiring exertions to make the New York Mirror the first publication of the kind in the world. Nor do we fear to be thought presuming in aiming at so high a mark. Let those who would carp at the expression, but look at the commencement of our undertaking; to the first of the fourteen volumes, which, year after year have been produced with an increase of toil and expense that has ever kept in advance of the support we have received, liberal, undoubtedly, as that support has been. Let them then weigh the improvements upon its predecessor in each successive volume, and we fearlessly assert that they cannot withhold their approval from our past labors, nor deny the rich promise with which our publication is still rich.

THE LITERARY ARRANGEMENTS for the coming year must secure a great improvement in this department of the Mirror; for while our journal will continue to be mainly supported by Morris, Willis, and Fay, new engagements have been made with Captain Marryat, and several other writers of established reputation, on both sides of the Atlantic, to give us the aid of their talents; and enroll themselves with those who, like Dr. Cox, have become almost identified with our columns. These increased resources must necessarily give a diversity to the paper; while, in order to promote that unity of purpose which is so desirable in such a journal, and which can only be secured by its having one acting head, the Mirror has now been placed under the immediate editorial charge of a single person; and the proprietor is happy to announce that he has made a permanent arrangement with Mr. C. F. Hoffman, who has for months had charge of this department.

THE STEEL ENGRAVINGS now in the course of preparation for the coming year are such as we shall be proud to lay before our countrymen. They commemorate the romantic scenery and the illustrious characters of our land. The Landing at Jamestown, painted by Chapman, will appear among the historical landscapes; and our series of Portraits which began with Halleck, will be followed by those of Bryant, Sprague, Cooper, Irving and Verplank; making, when finished, a most valuable portrait gallery of Americans of literary celebrity, while they illustrate the genius of Stewart, Inman, Weir, and other native artists of whom our country is justly proud.

THE WOOD ENGRAVINGS to which we have ever paid our attention, as the branch of the art to which they belong is one which our countrymen are rapidly carrying to a high degree of perfection, will assume new importance in this new volume, as all will acknowledge who behold the superb specimen of Chapman's genius and Adams' skill in an early number.

THE MUSICAL DEPARTMENT for the coming year, will be enriched by many original contributions by Horn and Russell, alternated with choice morceaux from rare European collections, and occasional selections from new and popular compositions, imported expressly for

WANTED 2500 lbs of Bees-wax, for which the highest price will be paid by RANNEY, RICHARDSON & CO. Oct. 13.

THE NEW YORK MIRROR.

A POPULAR and highly esteemed journal of Elegant Literature and the Fine Arts; embellished with magnificent and costly engravings on steel, copper and wood, and rare, beautiful and popular music, arranged for the Piano Forte, Harp, Guitar, &c., containing articles from the pens of well known and distinguished writers, upon every subject that can prove interesting to the general reader, including original poetry, Tales and Essays, humorous and pathetic; Critical notices; Early and choice selection from the best new publications, both American and English; Scientific and Literary Intelligence; Copious notices of foreign countries, by correspondents engaged expressly for this journal; Strictures upon the various productions in the Fine Arts that are presented for the notice and approbation of the public; Elaborate and beautiful specimens of Art, Engravings, Music, etc.—Notices of the acting Drama, and other amusements; Translations from the best new works in other languages, French, German, Italian, Spanish, etc; and an infinite variety of miscellaneous reading relating to passing events, remarkable individuals, discoveries and improvements in Science, Art, Mechanics, and a series of original papers, by William Cox, the author of Crayon Sketches, and other popular works.

We congratulate both our readers and ourselves at the excellent auspices under which we shall commence the next volume of the New York Mirror. The times, indeed, are gloomy; but, widely as our commercial distress is extended, the Mirror has shot the roots which nourish it still wider, and the elements of its prosperity being now derived from every section of our extended country, it shares in the good fortune of those most remote, while sympathizing with the troubles of those which are near. It is owing to this general circulation that we are enabled in times like these not merely to sustain the wonted style of our publication, but to present new claims upon that patriotic regard which has never been withheld from our untiring exertions to make the New York Mirror the first publication of the kind in the world. Nor do we fear to be thought presuming in aiming at so high a mark. Let those who would carp at the expression, but look at the commencement of our undertaking; to the first of the fourteen volumes, which, year after year have been produced with an increase of toil and expense that has ever kept in advance of the support we have received, liberal, undoubtedly, as that support has been. Let them then weigh the improvements upon its predecessor in each successive volume, and we fearlessly assert that they cannot withhold their approval from our past labors, nor deny the rich promise with which our publication is still rich.

THE LITERARY ARRANGEMENTS for the coming year must secure a great improvement in this department of the Mirror; for while our journal will continue to be mainly supported by Morris, Willis, and Fay, new engagements have been made with Captain Marryat, and several other writers of established reputation, on both sides of the Atlantic, to give us the aid of their talents; and enroll themselves with those who, like Dr. Cox, have become almost identified with our columns. These increased resources must necessarily give a diversity to the paper; while, in order to promote that unity of purpose which is so desirable in such a journal, and which can only be secured by its having one acting head, the Mirror has now been placed under the immediate editorial charge of a single person; and the proprietor is happy to announce that he has made a permanent arrangement with Mr. C. F. Hoffman, who has for months had charge of this department.

THE STEEL ENGRAVINGS now in the course of preparation for the coming year are such as we shall be proud to lay before our countrymen. They commemorate the romantic scenery and the illustrious characters of our land. The Landing at Jamestown, painted by Chapman, will appear among the historical landscapes; and our series of Portraits which began with Halleck, will be followed by those of Bryant, Sprague, Cooper, Irving and Verplank; making, when finished, a most valuable portrait gallery of Americans of literary celebrity, while they illustrate the genius of Stewart, Inman, Weir, and other native artists of whom our country is justly proud.

THE WOOD ENGRAVINGS to which we have ever paid our attention, as the branch of the art to which they belong is one which our countrymen are rapidly carrying to a high degree of perfection, will assume new importance in this new volume, as all will acknowledge who behold the superb specimen of Chapman's genius and Adams' skill in an early number.

THE MUSICAL DEPARTMENT for the coming year, will be enriched by many original contributions by Horn and Russell, alternated with choice morceaux from rare European collections, and occasional selections from new and popular compositions, imported expressly for

WANTED 2500 lbs of Bees-wax, for which the highest price will be paid by RANNEY, RICHARDSON & CO. Oct. 13.

THE NEW YORK MIRROR.

A POPULAR and highly esteemed journal of Elegant Literature and the Fine Arts; embellished with magnificent and costly engravings on steel, copper and wood, and rare, beautiful and popular music, arranged for the Piano Forte, Harp, Guitar, &c., containing articles from the pens of well known and distinguished writers, upon every subject that can prove interesting to the general reader, including original poetry, Tales and Essays, humorous and pathetic; Critical notices; Early and choice selection from the best new publications, both American and English; Scientific and Literary Intelligence; Copious notices of foreign countries, by correspondents engaged expressly for this journal; Strictures upon the various productions in the Fine Arts that are presented for the notice and approbation of the public; Elaborate and beautiful specimens of Art, Engravings, Music, etc.—Notices of the acting Drama, and other amusements; Translations from the best new works in other languages, French, German, Italian, Spanish, etc; and an infinite variety of miscellaneous reading relating to passing events, remarkable individuals, discoveries and improvements in Science, Art, Mechanics, and a series of original papers, by William Cox, the author of Crayon Sketches, and other popular works.

We congratulate both our readers and ourselves at the excellent auspices under which we shall commence the next volume of the New York Mirror. The times, indeed, are gloomy; but, widely as our commercial distress is extended, the Mirror has shot the roots which nourish it still wider, and the elements of its prosperity being now derived from every section of our extended country, it shares in the good fortune of those most remote, while sympathizing with the troubles of those which are near. It is owing to this general circulation that we are enabled in times like these not merely to sustain the wonted style of our publication, but to present new claims upon that patriotic regard which has never been withheld from our untiring exertions to make the New York Mirror the first publication of the kind in the world. Nor do we fear to be thought presuming in aiming at so high a mark. Let those who would carp at the expression, but look at the commencement of our undertaking; to the first of the fourteen volumes, which, year after year have been produced with an increase of toil and expense that has ever kept in advance of the support we have received, liberal, undoubtedly, as that support has been. Let them then weigh the improvements upon its predecessor in each successive volume, and we fearlessly assert that they cannot withhold their approval from our past labors, nor deny the rich promise with which our publication is still rich.

THE LITERARY ARRANGEMENTS for the coming year must secure a great improvement in this department of the Mirror; for while our journal will continue to be mainly supported by Morris, Willis, and Fay, new engagements have been made with Captain Marryat, and several other writers of established reputation, on both sides of the Atlantic, to give us the aid of their talents; and enroll themselves with those who, like Dr. Cox, have become almost identified with our columns. These increased resources must necessarily give a diversity to the paper; while, in order to promote that unity of purpose which is so desirable in such a journal, and which can only be secured by